Italy-Georgia friendly relations begins from the first years of the new nation, which has gone beyond our travels and naturalists, and has acquired scientific, socio-economic literature.

Unique assistance from Italian scientists is special in the study of the Georgian coastal area, the recovery and health of the resort. Italy-Georgia's medical relations are now on a new stage, leading to rich climatic-balneological resources, scientific research and exploration, which has a great perspective and greatly contributes to the rapprochement of the two countries.
